

Important information on the current Corona situation

Dear business partners,

Corona presents us all with completely new challenges. And that worldwide. JOYDIVISION does everything to respond to Corona.

In order to meet challenges in the best possible way, we focus on making sensible decisions in the conflict between responsibility for the health of our employees and maintaining our ability to deliver, by continuously assessing and weighing up the current situation.

Reachability

Our employees (some of them are currently working in the home office) are still available for you. Every employee can be reached by email.

By phone, if the employee is currently working in our office. If you cannot reach a member of staff by phone, please write him/her an email so that he/she can call you back immediately.

Meetings with business partners

Due to the highly infectious time we are currently unable to hold meetings with business partners. Of course, however, we would be happy to arrange meetings via Skype or Microsoft Teams.

Availability of goods

Our general availability of goods is currently ensured, because all our products are Made in Germany. Of course, we do everything in our power to meet notified delivery dates.

By placing your orders with an extended lead time, you can contribute to the improvement of our readiness to deliver. In view of the current negative development of the delivery situation with regard to raw materials, this gives us the opportunity to react early on to any scarce availability, or even delivery problems. Please do not hesitate to contact us in this regard.
